1. The appellants are original plaintiffs. They have filed the suit for removal of encroachment but the Appeal Court, after carefully examining the entire record, has held that the plaintiffs have not been able to prove that they are in possession of land less than what they are entitled to be in possession of. They have also not succeeded in proving that the defendants are in possession of land in excess of entitlement. These are essential findings of facts. No substantial question of law arises. Appeal is rejected.
